

David Sawyer's 1898 Photographs

David Sawyer, born 1878, lived at 44 Washington Street (corner of Wales). In 1898 he used an early box camera to photograph his neighborhood and the people in it, as well as events around town. Sadly, David died at the young age of 31, but has left these wonderful candid shots of the period.

Over the Rooftops

Picket Fences, Gardens and Greenhouses

New House on Pleasant Street

Stone Crusher on Washington Street

Stone Crusher Closeup

Corner of Center and Court

At Work on Merchants' Row

Checking Out Merchants' Row

Ready to Jump

Good Twin Bad Twin

Looking After Baby

Looking after Doll Baby

House Help

Happy to be Outside

Reluctant Photographee

Young Romance or Secrets

Pensive

Semi-Shy

Confidence

David Himself

Chums

Nice Threads and a Note from the Teacher in His Pocket

Rutland Historical Society

Merchants' Row

David's Transportation

Wintertime Trio

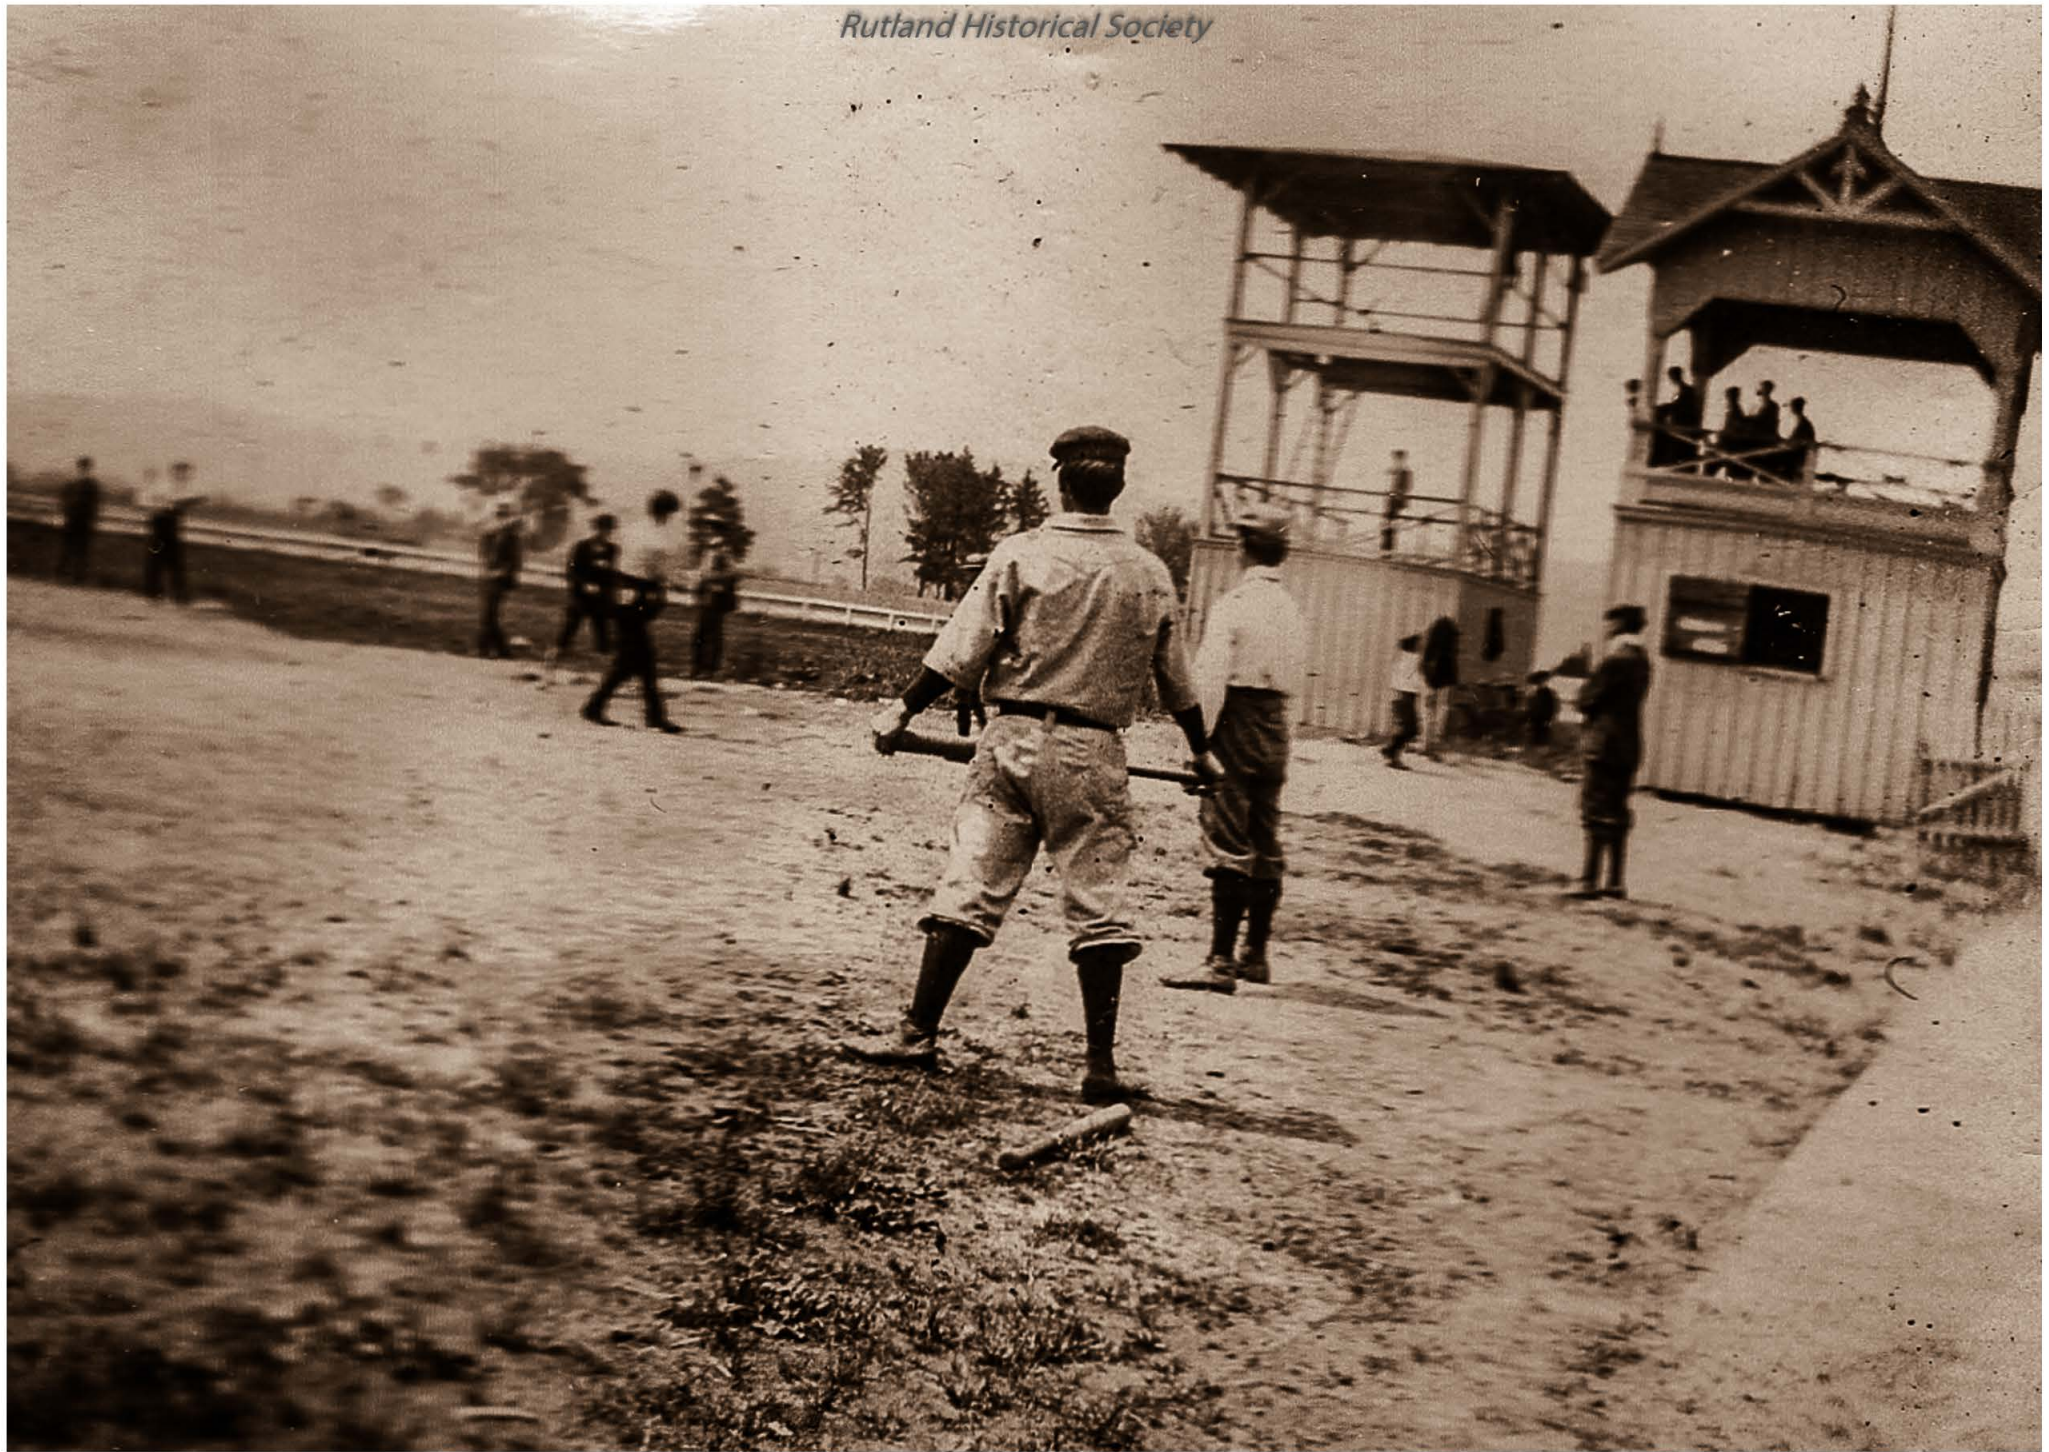

Lots of Lawns to Mow

Rutland Historical Society

Who's on First?

Time Out

Center Street

Train Coming to Town

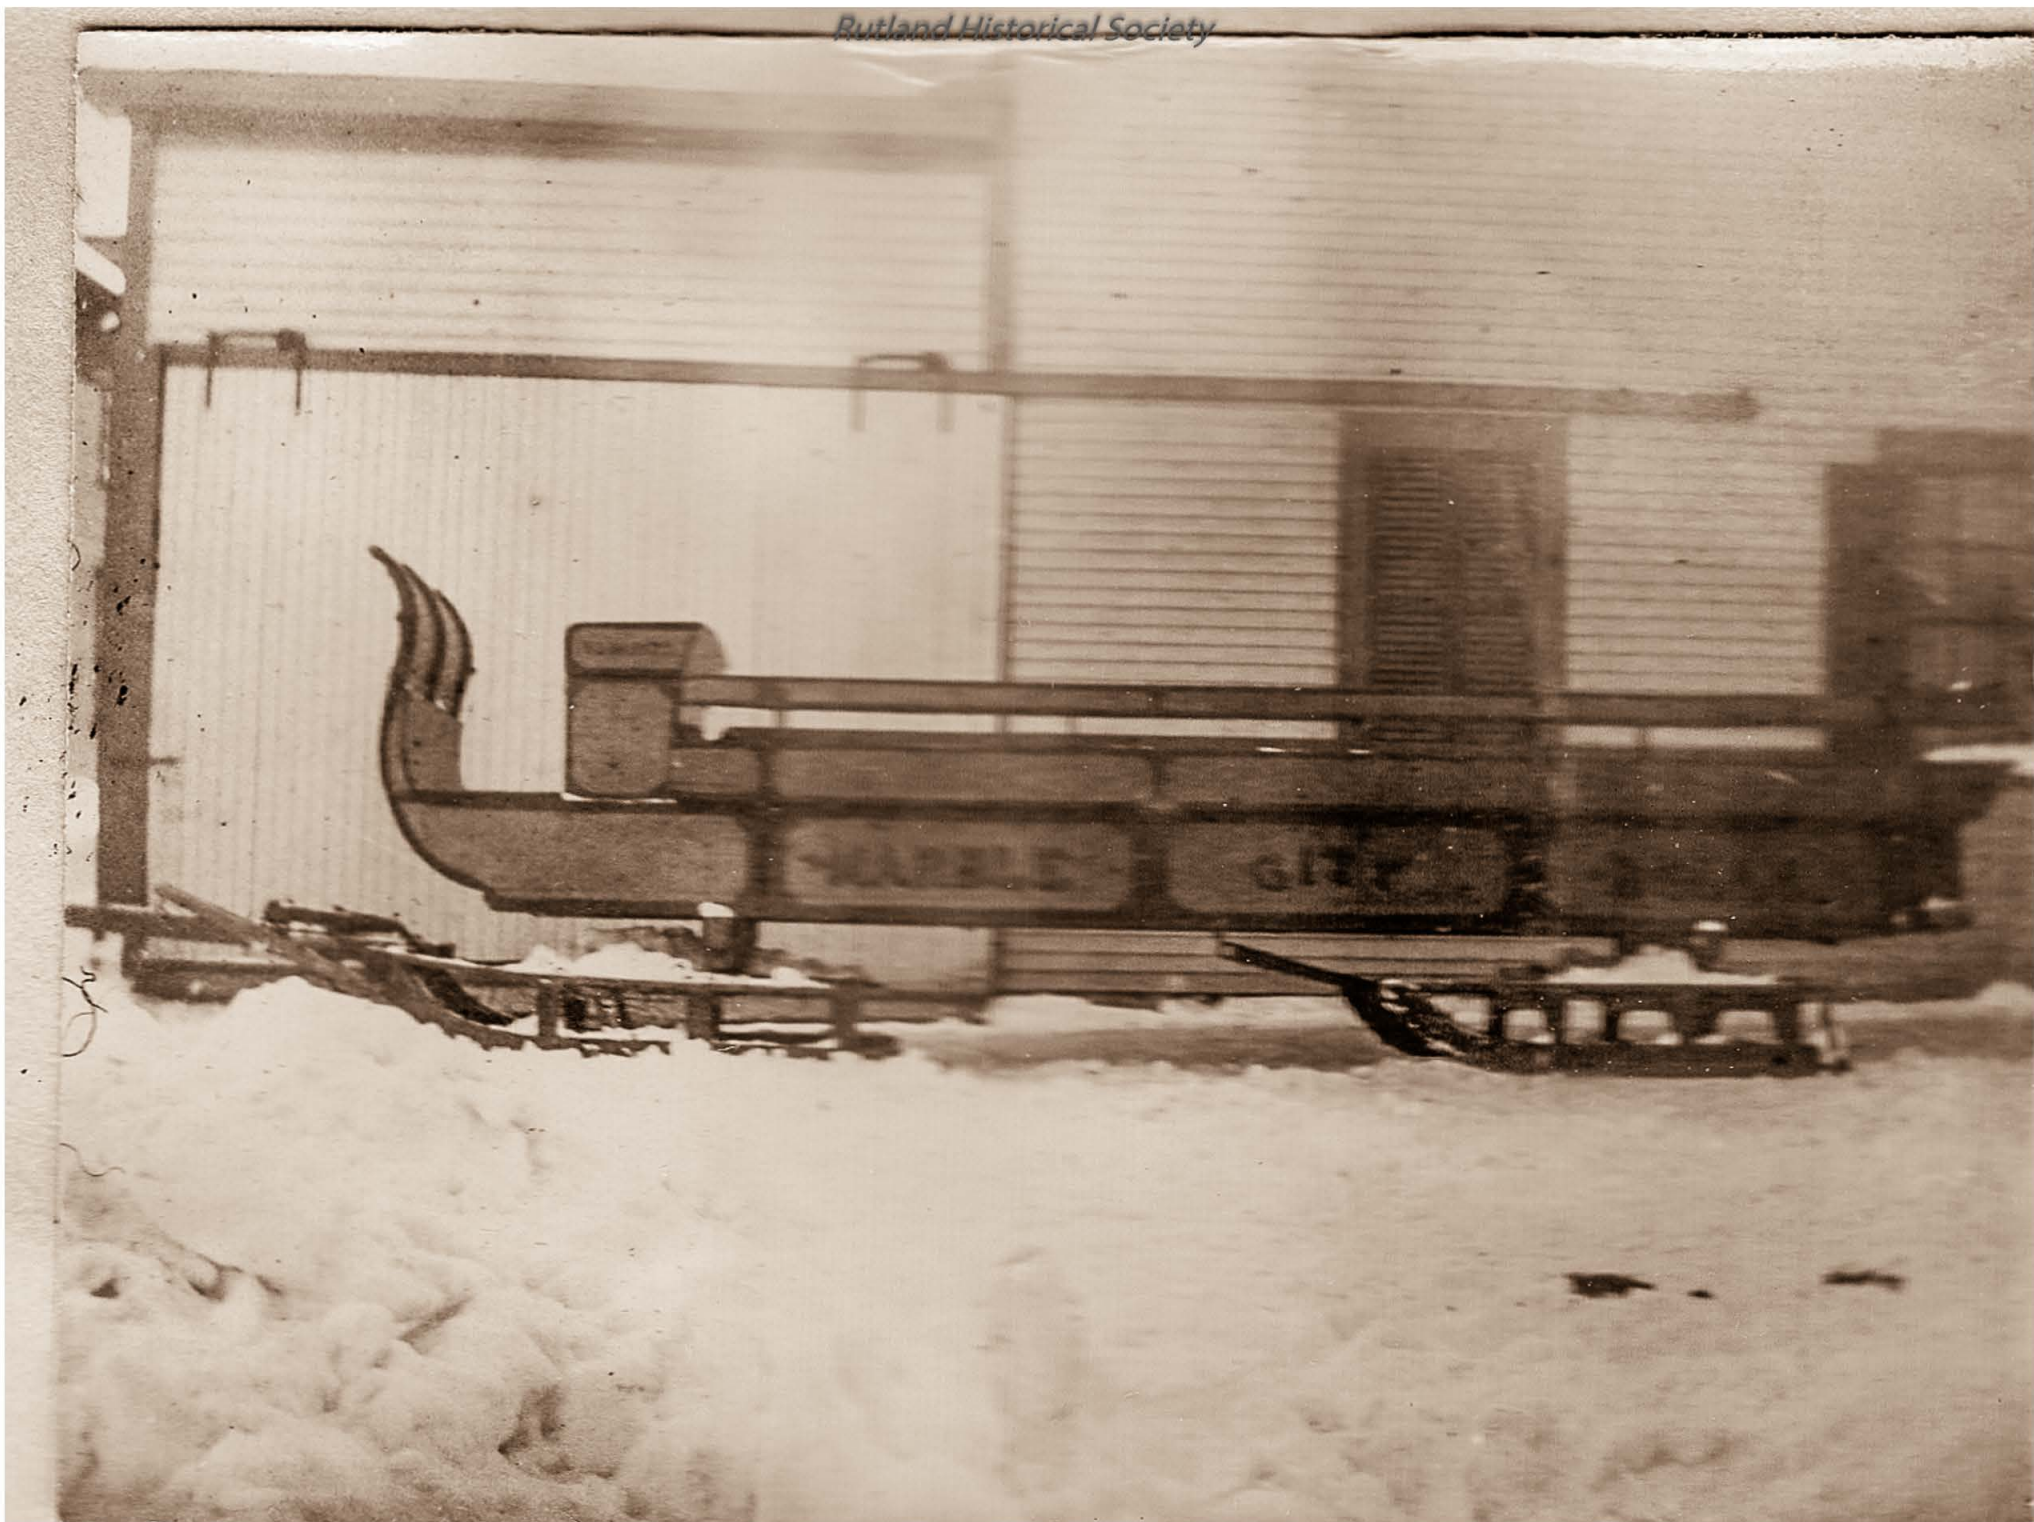

Woman and Picket Fence

Fair Time

Fair Time

Marble City

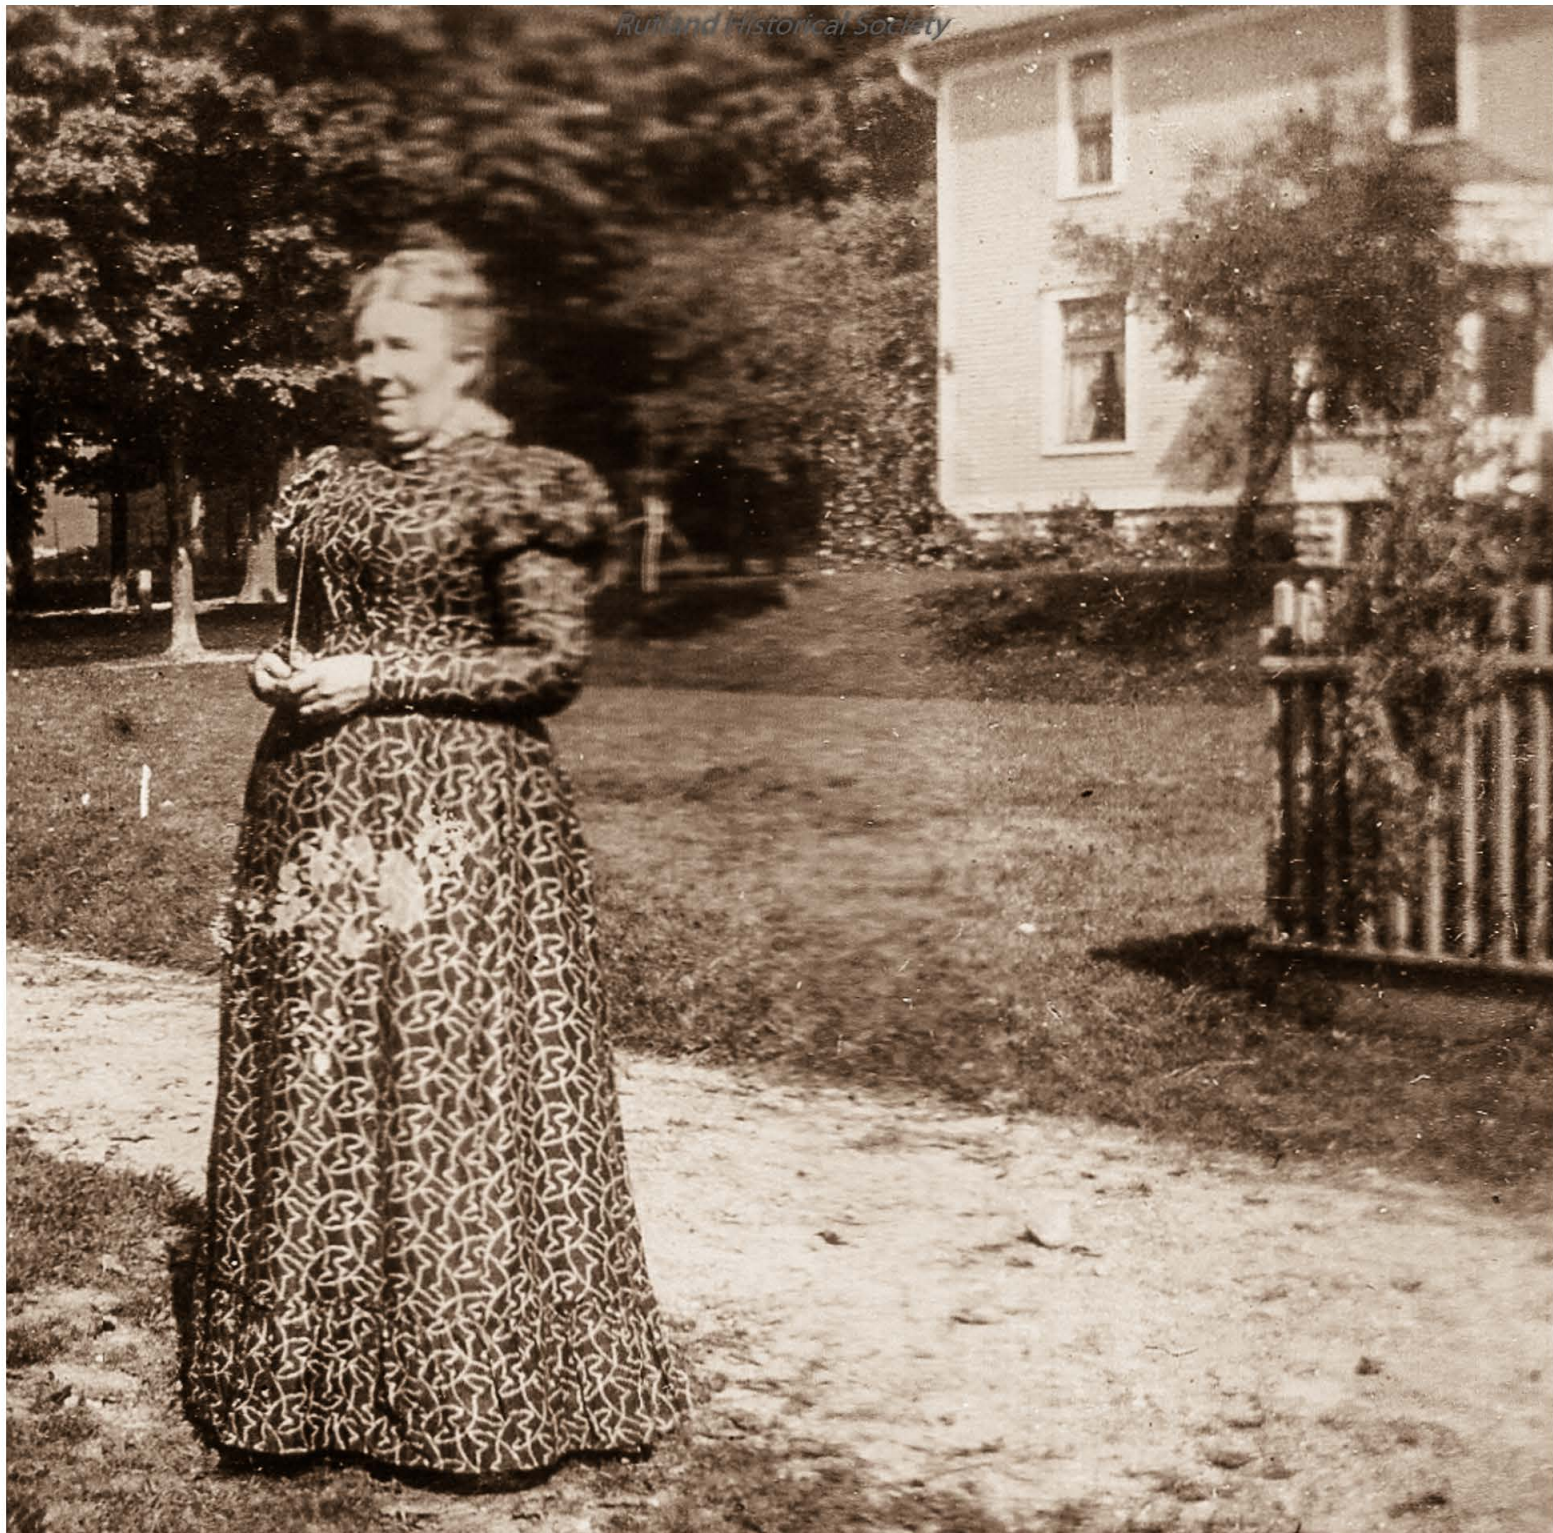

Snow!

Good View from Here

Who Says Photos Have to be Serious

All Dressed Up and No Place to Go

Nice Profile Shot. See the photographer's shadow.

Another Beautiful Shot

Train On the Bridge

Country Bridge

Rutland Historical Society

Lining Up at the Railroad Depot

View from the Trolley

Trolley Partners

Corner of Wales and Washington

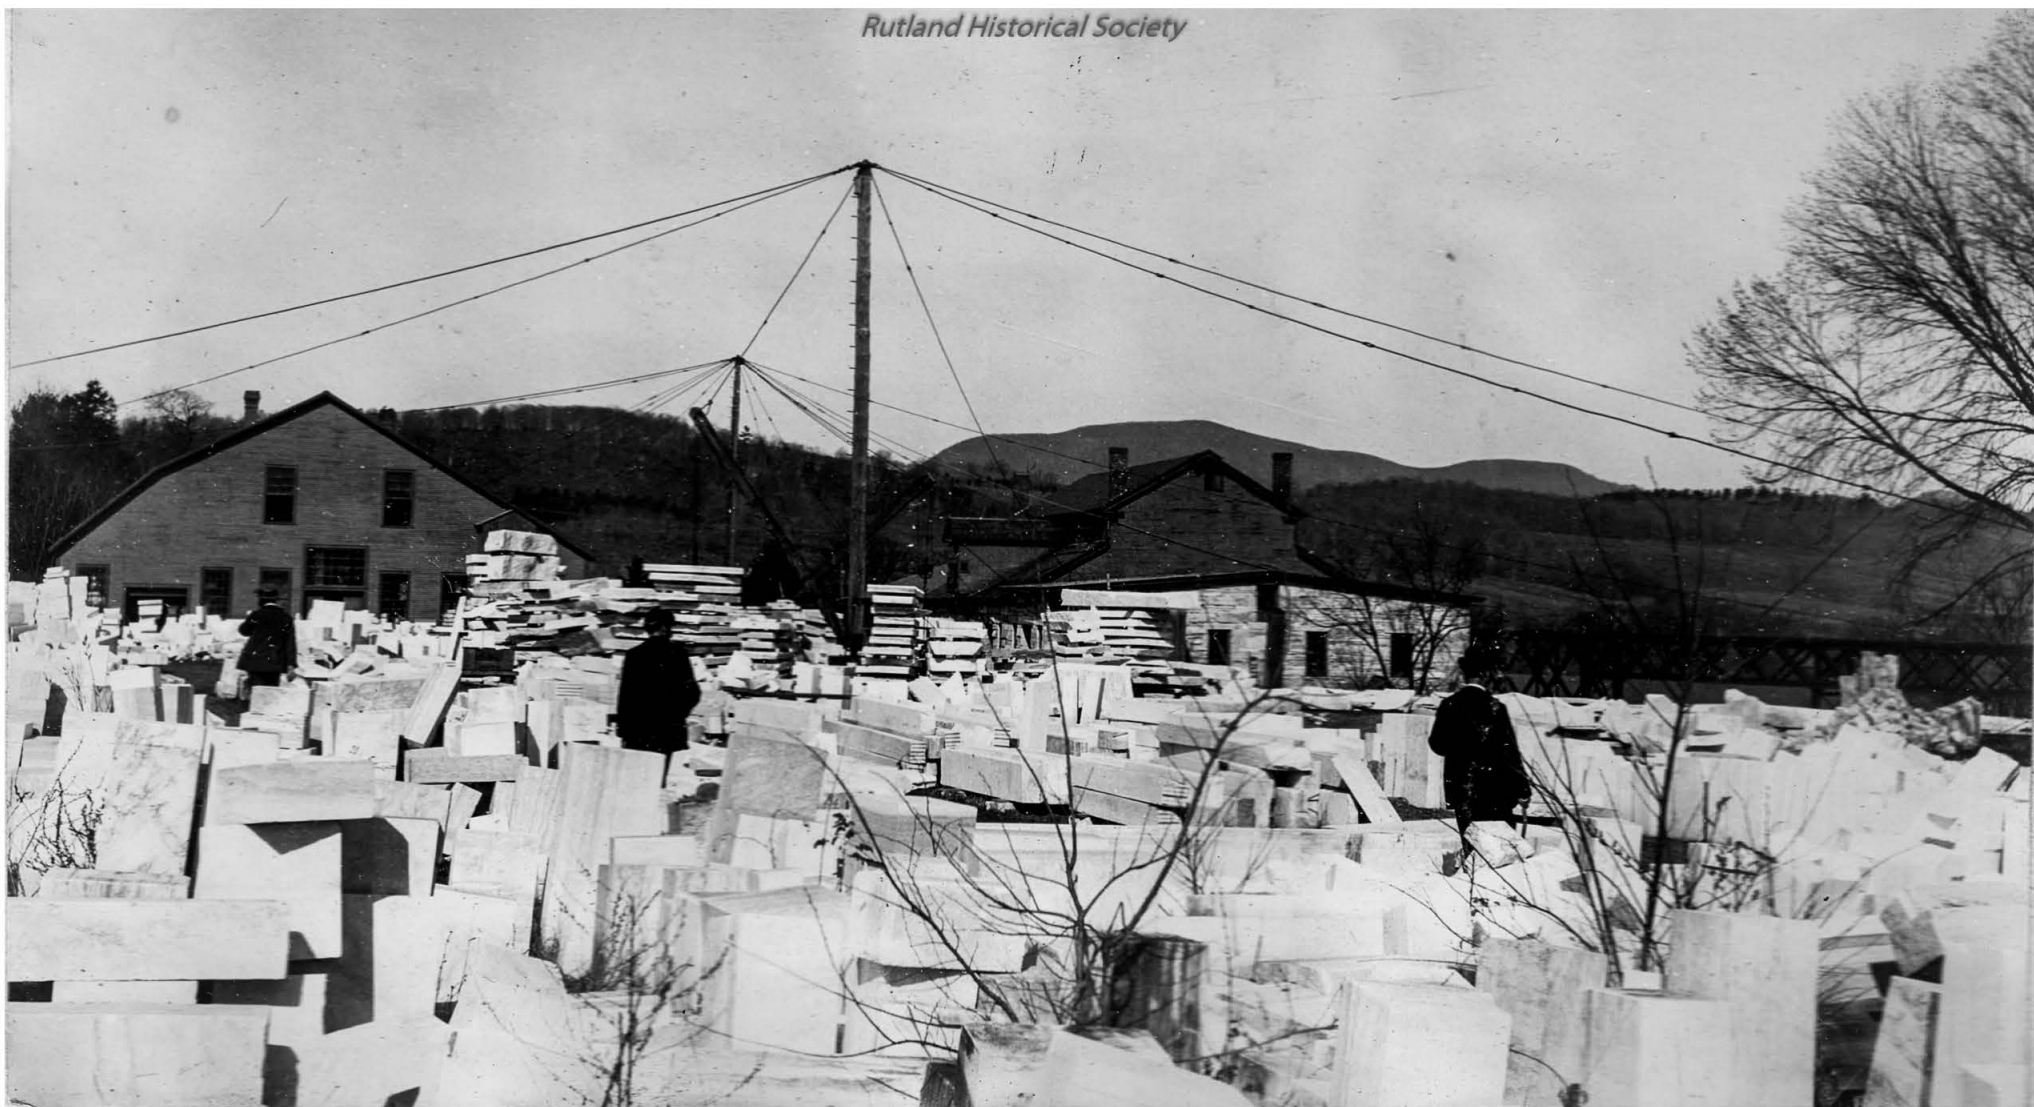

House Next to Masonic Temple

Rutland Historical Society

GAR Memorial Hall

Marble

Going for a Sunday Drive

Cows in the Front Yard

Cows in the Backyard

Sunning

Shadows

The Neighborhood Gang

Soldiers

The Rutland